

Late Work Grading Policy

Keith G. Chuvala, Instructor
ITT Technical Institute, Webster, Texas

I really, really, really don't like having to deal with late work. I mean, I detest it. But there are times when turning in work late cannot be avoided, and I want you to complete all the work that is required for this course. Therefore I will accept late work up to 3 weeks late, with the following penalties being assessed:

< 1 week late.....	5 point penalty
1 week late .....	10 point penalty
2 weeks late.....	25 point penalty
3 weeks late.....	40 point penalty
4 or more weeks late .....	Not accepted, 100 point penalty

Work is considered late when it is turned in after the specified due date + 8 hours. A grace period of 8 hours is granted so that work received the morning following the due date by 8:00 a.m. will not be considered late.

All work is due by week 11, of course, and no work will be accepted after Wednesday of finals week for the quarter.
